IAG Policy

Strategy

To deliver a robust, impartial, unbiased, and effective Information, Advice and Guidance (IAG) service to internal and external clients, organisations and key stakeholders, that is responsive and addresses their needs, providing a comprehensive service that meets national standards and A2L's quality requirements.

A2L incorporates, and abides by, the policies and procedures of the relevant awarding organisations, Pearson, Highfield and NCFE.

Objectives

- a) To provide impartial, unbiased IAG in a form that is easily understood by the recipient.
- b) To ensure IAG is treated confidentially as per the Data Protection Act and GDPR.
- c) To ensure IAG promotes and embeds equity, diversity, and inclusion throughout all of the provision.
- d) To systematically monitor, review, evaluate and continually improve our IAG offer
- e) To monitor and evaluate the effectiveness of provision in delivering Safeguarding,
 Prevent and British Values outcomes.
- f) To signpost clients to other competent organisations/services where the nature of the query, interest or concern is out of scope of our capability/competence.
- g) To ensure all learners are fully aware of progression opportunities available to them.

Measurement of progress towards achievement of these strategic objectives will be via the agreed business plan KPI's.

Learners

We will provide applicants and learners access to IAG services, which are up to date, accessible, fit for purpose and reliable. Our team members will deliver IAG services that are learner centred and in line with our values (confidentiality, impartiality, integrity and with due regard to actual or potential conflicts of interest).

Our policy is to ensure IAG covers a range of activities and interventions that support learners to become more independent, more self-reliant and better informed so they can manage their own personal and career development, including training and learning. This includes embedding personalisation of learning into the program, identifying individual learning needs and continuous professional development.

We achieve this by embedding personalisation of learning into programmes, identifying individual learning and support needs and providing additional support where needed. The work involves the team in the following areas of activity.

- a) Ensure learners understand the range of opportunities available by providing clear information in a wide range of contexts and formats. This enables them to make informed and realistic decisions about their current and potential future vocational or personal needs based on accurate evidence and information.
- b) Supporting learners to overcome any perceived barriers and challenges to learning, development and progression, and by instilling an ethos of lifelong learning. This may involve finding learning and training solutions for learners and developing effective curriculum plans/course schedules.
- c) Monitoring, evaluating and continuously improving our performance at the learner and organisational level. This is achieved by monitoring and reviewing learner progress and distance travelled as well as measuring performance against A2L KPI's such as learner retention and achievement rates for contracts.
- d) Providing IAG services which are completely free of charge and tailored to the needs of each learner.

Employers

We will provide employers with full information about the IAG we offer to learners.

Our policy is to help employers develop their own businesses and career pathways by providing IAG on training solutions that meet their current and future business needs. To support our employer partners we offer the following forms of IAG and support.

- a) We deliver government funded programmes in specified vocational areas. These are fully funded where possible for individuals who meet Government Funding Body eligibility criteria.
- b) We offer Organisational Needs Analyses and Training Needs Analyses for employers.

 These support employers to identify the most appropriate training solutions for their business needs that we can deliver of that we signpost them to.
- c) We work closely with our employer partners to continuously maintain and improve the quality of our performance and delivery as well as tailor provision more closely to their current and emerging needs.

Staff

A2L will provide all staff with regular IAG training and development to enable them to continually develop their knowledge, understanding and expertise in relation to IAG and to deliver IAG effectively and efficiently within their job role.

- a) A2L will enable staff to recognise the extent of their own competencies and to direct them to the most appropriate internal/external sources who can address individual CPD needs.
- b) Staff will act with integrity and in a confidential and impartial manner, maintaining a full awareness of what constitutes a conflict of interest.
- c) A2L will train staff in IAG to a level that meets their job role and responsibilities, and ensuring CPD takes place in line with role requirements.

- d) A2L will continue to develop effective strategies and take effective action to improve the company performance through our team members that is in turn supportive of learners.
- e) A2L will evaluate and continuously improve our performance relating to IAG as measured and monitored via internal quality assurance.

A flow chart is available that plots the IAG provided at each stage of the learner journey.

Partners

A2L strive to develop effective IAG partnerships to ensure there is added value to the internal IAG provision.

- a) A2L will continue to embed IAG services within the curriculum to address employability barriers, e.g. National Careers Service
- b) A2L will work closely with the Trussell Trust to ensure our learners do not experience food poverty
- c) A2L will work closely with partners who are local to each site, ensuring relevant regional resources are available to learners

IAG Promotion

It is important that all stakeholders are aware of the IAG services offered by A2L and how it can benefit learners and employers. In order to support his aim A2L will:

- Ensure the website IAG section is kept up to date and reflects the range of IAG support on offer
- Circulate promotional materials that include a clear description of our IAG services to our main referral bases and organisations

- Proactively research and attend promotional shows and events to engage with stakeholders and inform them about our programmes and IAG support services
- Review promotional materials on a regular basis to make sure information about IAG
- Develop and publish appropriate success stories that illustrate the effectiveness of our
 IAG service and the difference it makes to the learners journey

Quality Assurance of IAG

A2L have developed a comprehensive monitoring framework to support the continuous improvement of our IAG provision offered throughout the learner's journey. This monitoring framework comprises different output and outcome measures which are captured and reported on at regular management meetings.

The table below provides a summary of the output and outcome measures and indicators at each stage of the journey as described in flowchart at the end.
